LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters.

New Year's dinner is the next thing that will absorb the attention of housekeepers. Rev. O. L. Stringfield will preach at the Union mission, on Wilmington yesterday. street, every night during this week.

Mr. Walter H Riddick, of Neuse, has taken a cierkship in the office of the register of deeds and has entered upon his duties.

It is said that the revenue collections in this, the fourth internal revenue district will average $6,000 per day for the last month.

Coroner Buffalo went out to Millbrook yesterday to investigate a case in con nection with the death of Mrs. Grady. It is charged that she was poisoned by two members of her family.

The mayor had the biggest levee of the season in the municipal office yesterday. It was "disposition" day for a large number of drunks and downs, and the city coffers were replenished by quite a neat little sum in the way of fines.

There is every reason to believe that Christmas was quite a happy season to everybody in Raleigh this year. The like of gifts and good dinners was never before seen in these parts. For once the "good old times" have been heavily discounted.

Yesterday four couples bade a final farewell to the miseries of bachelor and spinster life, and agreed to try the "double cussedness' dodge for awhile; and in consequence of these determinations, the register of deeds issued four marriage licenses.

The coroner's jury which sat on the case of Louisa Harris, the colored woman who was shot near the Union depot two weeks ago, and who died from the effect of her wound, have reached a conclusion, but for good reasons are reserving what they have arrived at for the present.

Mr. W. G. Thomas, who has for nineteen years been connected with the famous drugstore of Williams & Haywood, of this city, has bought out the Farman drugstore in Louisburg and will conduct Lusiness there. He leaves for his new home this week. Mr. Thomas is a gentleman in all that the word can imply. No man in Raleigh is held in greater confidence and higher esteem than he, and Louisburg may cordially congratulate herself on her acquisition.

A YOUNG LADY BURNED TO DEATH.

Her Clothing Catches Fire-- And Her Injuries Result Fatally a Few Hours Later.

Miss Lottie Scales, a young lady aged nineteen years, living with Mrs. J. Watson, her aunt, in the southeastern part of the city, was so badly burned on Christmas morning, that she died a few hours later.

She was making a fire about 11 o'clock on Christmas day when a coal dropped on her apron causing it to blaze. She ran out of the house, jerked the apron off and threw it from her, thinkhad taken fire. But the blaze on the apron also fired her dress. She did not discover this until she was in flames. She again ran out of the house and fought the fire desperately, but without success. He, Everything possible was done for her, but she ded about four o'clock on Friday morning.

She was the daughter of Capt. Geo. Scales, who was at one time Chief of Police of this city.

The funeral was held from the residence yesterday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Marshall conducting the services. New Bern papers please copy.

Mr. W. H. Holloway Gets a Caning.

On Christmas eve, when the N. C. wagon factory employees went to the office to receive their pay before leaving until the last one had been paid. Then at a signal from the engineer, Mr. C. H. Prominent gentlemen will make short and spicy speeches. The Grand Chancellor will be present, and a good time generally will be had.

A Wild and Sensational Rumor.

Yesterday morning there was a wild and sen ational rumor going the rounds to the effect that Prof. E. P. Moses, superintendent of the Raleigh graded schools, had been shot at Jonesboro. Tenn. Investigation failed to reveal anything whatever to verify the report, and it was soon regarded as something that sprang up without root from nowhere.

CHRISTMAS TIMES.

THE JOYS AND FESTIVILIES TOO MANY MANY TO BE TOLD.

Bright Green Holly and Brilliant Red Berries -- The Mistletoe -- Some Church and Sunday School Exercises.

Christmas in Raleigh and vicinity this year was a much larger, happier and nobler occasion than admits of full description in small space.

It was large because everybody in some way was made to feel its happy

It was happy because everybody, old and young, by reason of the prosperous times, felt able to give presents. It was noble because the poor, and beneficent objects of various kinds were
